The 50th All-Star Game was played in the Kingdome on July 17, 1979. A (then) Seattle-record 58,905 fans saw the National League pull out a come-from-behind 7-6 win. # HOWARD LINCOLN

Chairman & Chief Executive Officer

A key player in the formation of the ownership group that saved the Mariners for Seattle in 1992, Howard Lincoln was named Chairman and Chief Executive Officer on September 27, 1999. Since his arrival, the Mariners hired Pat Gillick as General Manager, re-organized the front office to streamline business operations and expanded the Major League payroll, allowing the addition of several free agents. Seattle won a club-record 91 games in his first year as CEO.

Lincoln retired from his position as chairman of Nintendo of America, Inc. to devote his full efforts to the Mariners on February 14, 2000. Lincoln joined Nintendo as its senior vice president and general counsel in January, 1983. In February, 1994, he was elected to the board of Nintendo of America, Inc. and appointed chairman of the company.

CHUCK ARMSTRONG

President & Chief Operating Officer

Chuck Armstrong was named President and Chief Operating Officer of the Seattle Mariners on June 29, 1992. Armstrong is responsible for all operations of the Mariners' franchise and works directly with CEO Howard Lincoln.

Armstrong, 59, was previously president of the Mariners from 1983 to 1989. He also served as Interim Athletic Director for the University of Washington in 1991.

Since rejoining the Mariners in 1992, Armstrong has successfully led the expansion of the Mariners front office that has seen the staff size nearly triple as the Club made its move into SAFECO Field. Under his leadership, the Mariners front office is recognized as one of baseball's best.

Born and raised in Louisville, Armstrong earned a B.S. degree in Industrial Engineering in 1964 from Purdue University where he was recognized as Outstanding Senior Man. He graduated from Stanford University Law School in 1967 and then served over three years on active duty in the U.S. Navy.

Following his tour in the Navy, Armstrong joined a major West Coast law firm in 1970. He left to become president of a leading national furniture manufacturer and importer from 1977 to 1980. Community and fan support improved enormously — attendance grew from 1,651,398 in 1992 to 3,150,034 in 2001. The greatest accomplishment under his leadership was the construction of our world-class ballpark, SAFECO Field.

In June, 1999 Ellis was unanimously elected to the Major League Baseball Executive Council. He is currently chair of the International, Ownership and Economic Study Committees. John, 72, served variously as President, CEO and Chairman of the Board of Puget Sound Power & Light Company (now Puget Sound Energy) from 1970 to his retirement in 1993. #### THE MARINERS ON THE INTERNET

The Mariners, pioneers on the Internet launching the first sports website in 1994, have now teamed up with Major League Baseball's new media company, MLB Advanced Media to improve the website with richer content and more robust functionality.

Improved features on www.seattlemariners.com include:

Live-game-data casting: Get a game-day scoreboard, box score, team standings, game summary, seven-day schedule, video highlights, player hitting history chart, game view replay, match ups, lineup, game notes and live play-by-play.

Statistics: Features new functions like multi-player comparisons, more in-depth situational splits and exciting visual representations. Of course, we also include traditional stats, like team and league leaders, player and team hitting, pitching and fielding statistics, game logs and standings.

Video Highlights: Enjoy nightly highlight packages from all Mariners games, plus a custom search tool that allows you to find the clips you want to see.

The Team: This new section offers information on Mariners players and team information including 25-man and 40-man rosters, player position charts, player profiles, manager/coaching staff rosters, front office directories, Major League transactions, injuries and links to current year draft picks.

The Mariners were also the first sports team to provide a live radio broadcast of its games on the web (September 1995) and the first to transmit a televised game live over the Internet in April of 1997. The Mariners website can be accessed through www.seattlemariners.com.

When the name "Mariners" was chosen, all the entries suggesting the name were reviewed for their reasons (in 25 words or less).

The winner was Roger Szmodis of Bellevue, WA. His entry read "I've selected Mariners because of the natural association between the sea and Seattle and her people, who have been challenged and rewarded by it."

A CAPSULE HISTORY OF PROFESSIONAL BASEBALL IN SEATTLE

- The first professional baseball team in Seattle was organized. The Seattle Reds played in the Class-C Pacific Northwest League.
- The Reds (first-half champions) won the P.N.L. Pennant when the Portland club declined to enter the playoffs because of financial problems.
- 1896 Club was re-named "Braves" and moved into its first stadium (Athletic Park 14th and Yesler).
- The Pacific Coast League was formed and Seattle was a charter member. Thus, Seattle had two professional baseball teams for one season (the Braves were now in the Pacific National League and folded after one year).
- 1906-17 Seattle ended its membership in the P.C.L. and joined the Class-B Northwestern League.
- 1919 Seattle re-joined the Pacific Coast League. The club was named "Indians" and played a 225-game schedule (the extended season format continued through the 1957 P.C.L. season).
- 1937 Emil Sick bought the Seattle franchise for $115,000 and immediately changed the nickname to "Rainiers" (Sick also owned and operated the Rainier Brewing Company).
- 1938 On June 15, the Rainiers moved into the newly-built Sicks' Stadium (seating capacity of 11,500). Local sports hero Fred Hutchinson began his rookie season and posted a 25-7 record.
- 1939-41 The Rainiers won three consecutive P.C.L. pennants.
- Hutchinson returned as manager of the Rainiers and led the club to another P.C.L. crown. In addition, the first official proposition for a domed stadium in Seattle was made (bond issues for the project failed in 1960 and 1964).
- 1960 Sick sold the club to the Boston Red Sox. Seattle became the Red Sox triple-A affiliate
- 1965-68 The California Angels purchased the club and Bob Lemon managed Seattle to its last baseball championship.
- 1967 Public approval was given for funds needed to build a domed stadium (completion was scheduled to be prior to the 1972 season).
- The Seattle Pilots came into existence and began to play in the American League. Sicks' Stadium was expanded to seat 28,500, and 677,944 fans came out to watch the 64-98 expansion team. Third baseman Tommy Harper led the junior circuit with 73 stolen bases.
- 1970 On March 31, financial difficulties forced the Pilots to move to Milwaukee (club was re-named "Brewers"). Plans to build a domed stadium were temporarily interrupted.
- 1972-76 Seattle fielded a team in the class-A Northwest League.
- 1977 On April 6, Major League Baseball returned to Seattle when the Mariners played the California Angels before a Kingdome crowd of 57,762. The Mariners starting pitcher that night was Diego Segui, a member of the 1969 Pilots.
- 1995 On October 2, Seattle won its first American League West pennant.
- 1997 On September 23, Seattle won its 2nd American League West pennant.
- 1999 On June 27, Seattle played their final game in the Kingdome defeating Texas 5-2.
- 1999 On July 15, Seattle played their first game in SAFECO Field against the San Diego Padres, losing 3-2.
- 2000 On October 1, Seattle won the AL Wild Card.

MARINERS HALL OF FAME

Dave Niehaus, the Voice of the Mariners since the team's first pitch in 1977, was inducted into the Mariners Hall of Fame on May 7, 2000, joining Mr. Mariner, Alvin Davis, as the only current members of the Mariners Hall of Fame...the Mariners Hall of Fame was created to honor the players, staff and other individuals that greatly contributed to the history of the Mariners franchise...Niehaus has missed only 58 games in his 24 seasons behind the microphone...Davis, who was inducted on June 14, 1997, played with the Mariners from 1984-1991 and was the first Mariners player to win a major post-season award when he was named 1984 American League Rookie of the Year...he was also named to the 1984 American League All-Star Team.

SEATTLE MARINERS 2000 TEAM HIGHLIGHTS

The Record...Seattle finished with a 91-71 record, a half-game behind Oakland in the AL West, but first in the Wild Card, a game ahead of Cleveland...91 wins is the most ever in the 23 years of Seattle Mariners baseball...is the first time Seattle finished over .500 since 1997 (90-72)...91 wins is an 18-game improvement over 1999's record (79-83)...

PRE- and POST-Break...under Lou Piniella, Seattle has compiled a 340-337 (,502) record before the All-Star break, and a 291-259 (.530) after the All-Star break...Seattle's 51-35 record before the break this season marked the Mariners best record with Piniella at the helm...here's a look at Seattle's year-by-year under Piniella:

BULLPEN	W	L	S	BS	ERA	IP	H	R	ER	BB	SO	HR
1999	19	31	40	20	5.94	471.0	555	337	311	295	324	55
2000	20	24	44	17	4.47	485.0	458	254	241	251	406	60

STARTING SOLID...Seattle used nine starting pitchers, the fewest since using eight starters in 1998...the nine starting pitchers for Seattle were (club's record in starts); Aaron Sele 34 (22-12), John Halama 30 (16-14), Paul Abbott 27 (14-13), Jamie Moyer 26 (15-11), Freddy Garcia 20 (12-9), Gil Meche 15 (6-9), Brett Tomko 8 (5-3), Joel Pineiro 1 (1-0), Rob Ramsay 1 (0-1)...

RECORD BY HOME RUN... The Mariners were 75-42 when they homered this season, 16-29 when they did not... Seattle twice hit five home runs in a game, doing so April 16 in Toronto, and September 29 in Anaheim, with shortstop Alex Rodriguez posting multiple-HR games in each...here's a look at Seattle's home-run production numbers in the 2000 season:

HOME RUN DERBY... Seattle homered in 117 of its 162 games, just five less than 1999, when the Mariners led the A.L. in home runs with 244... the Mariners hit 198 home runs in 2000, the 5th-highest total in team history... 2000 marks the first time since 1995 (182) that Seattle hit less than 200 home runs... Mariners hitters went back-to-back five times, while John Olerud (April 23 vs. KC) and Mike Cameron (Aug. 1 vs. Bos) each went deep in the Mariners last at-bat...

GRAND GAME...Seattle sluggers kept "grandma" busy this year, equaling a team record with 11 grand slams...Edgar Martinez set a new team record with four slams (4/15 at Tor, 6/22 vs. Bal, 8/8 at Chi, 8/29 at NY), while Jay Buhner (2, 7/31 vs. Bos, 8/8 at Chi), Alex Rodriguez (4/16 at Tor), Mike Cameron (6/15 at Min), Joe Oliver (7/22 vs. Tex), Tom Lampkin (6/25 vs. Bal), and Carlos Guillen (8/7 at NY) each brought out the rye bread and the mustard as well...

10-SPOT...Seattle scored at least 10 runs 25 times this season, 2 more than they did in 1999...in addition, Seattle was 24-1 when scoring 10 or more runs this season, after losing 5 such contests last year...Seattle pitchers ALLOWED 10 runs on 14 occasions (0-14), including five in a span of seven games during an eight-game losing streak Aug. 12-20... that total is an improvement on 1999's total of 27 games allowing 10 or more runs (1-26)...

PACK OF THIEVES...for the second-consecutive year, the Mariners were among the league leaders in stolen bases, swiping 122 bags to place second in the AL only to Baltimore's 126...the 121 stolen bases are the 7th-highest total in Mariners history...interestingly, none of the Mariners top-three basestealers were on the team's roster last season...leftfielder Rickey Henderson added to his ML-record total with 31 swipes for the Mariners, while Mark McLemore (30), Mike Cameron (24) and Alex Rodriguez (15) each cracked double-digits...the Mariners had three players with 20+ stolen bases for the second-consecutive season, but just the second time overall since 1987.

GETTING DEFENSIVE...four seasons of steady defensive improvement peaked in 2000 as the Mariners sported one of the best defensive squads in the Majors...Seattle's .984 fielding percentage was just barely shy of the team record of .985, while its 98 total errors were 4th-lowest in team history...three Seattle infielders finished among the top-three in the AL at their position...first-baseman John Olerud ranked 1st in the AL with a .996 fielding percentage, committing just 5 errors in 158 games (1,408 chances)...second-baseman Mark McLemore (8 errors in 616 chances) ranked 2nd in the league at his position with a .987...Alex Rodriguez was 3rd among AL shortstops with a .986 fielding percentage (10 E, 691 chances).

POST-SEASON RECORDS

Ken Griffey Jr. set a new mark for home runs in a Division or Championship Series, slugging five against the Yankees in the '95 Division Series. Griffey matched the all-time post-season single-series record, held by Reggie Jackson (1977 World Series). Griffey's post-season total of six home runs tied the M.L. mark for a single post-season (also Lenny Dykstra, 1993 Phillies and Bob Robertson, 1971 Pirates). Edgar Martinez set a new record for RBI in a post-season game with his seven RBI in Game 4 of the Division Series.

HOW TO FIGURE

Batting Average — Divide the total number of hits collected by a player by the total number of at bats. Example: Player A is 12-of-40 or .300.

Slugging Percentage — Divide the number of total bases by the total number of at bats. Example: Player A's 12 hits include six singles (6), one double (2), two triples (6) and three home runs (12) for a total of 26 total bases in 40 at bats and a .650 slugging percentage.

On-Base Percentage — Divide the total of hits, all bases on balls and hit by pitch by the total of at bats, all bases on balls, hit by pitch and sacrifice flies.

Earned Run Average — The total number of earned runs allowed by a pitcher is divided by the total number of innings pitched and then multiplied by nine for his pergame average. Example: Pitcher B has allowed 12 earned runs in 45 innings of work for a 2.40 ERA.

Fielding Average — The sum of putouts and assists is divided by the sum of putouts, assists and errors. Example: Player C has made 16 putouts and 24 assists and two errors. That's 40 putouts and assists divided by 42 chances for a fielding average of .952.

Magic Number — Determine the number of games yet to be played by the division leader, add one, then subtract the number of games ahead in the loss column of the standings from the closest opponent.

SAFECO FIELD

The 2000 season was the Seattle Mariners first full season at SAFECO Field. Fans responded enthusiastically and in record numbers. Attendance at Mariners games in 2000 totaled 3.1 million, the second highest season attendance total in the Mariners 24-year history.

Since the Inaugural Game on July 15, 1999, SAFECO Field gained a reputation locally, regionally and nationally as a terrific setting for baseball and a great place for baseball fans. Sweeping views of the downtown Seattle skyline and breathtaking sunsets over Puget Sound combined with excellent views of game action from all angles to give fans at SAFECO Field an experience unequalled in Major League Baseball.

A large number of fans take advantage of the openness of SAFECO Field and enjoy watching games from standing areas at various locations around the ballpark. The patio of the Bullpen Market in center field has become an event within an event as thousands of fans gather there as early as three hours before game time and throughout the game. Fans also take advantage of the fact they can make a complete circle of the ballpark on the main concourse while still watching the game.

FANS COME FIRST

Fan comfort and convenience were top considerations in the design and construction of SAFECO Field. Wide concourses, more leg room, excellent sight lines, seats angled toward the field, plenty of bathrooms and concession stands all combine to provide fans with a first-class experience.

THE ROOF

The ballpark's one-of-a-kind retractable roof is designed to cover but not enclose the ballpark, thus preserving an open-air environment. The structure covers nearly 9 acres, weighs 22 million pounds, and contains enough steel to build a skyscraper 55 stories tall. The three movable panels glide on 128 steel wheels powered by 96 ten horsepower electric motors. A push of a button closes or opens the roof in an average of 10-20 minutes (depending on wind and other weather conditions). The roof is self-grounded (in the event of lightning strikes) and is designed to withstand 6-7 ft. of snow and sustained winds of up to 70 mph.

SCOREBOARD SYSTEM

SAFECO Field features one of the most comprehensive scoreboard systems in Major League Baseball, including 11 electronic displays and an old-fashioned hand-operated scoreboard in left field. The main scoreboard in center field features a huge state-of-the-art LED technology video screen and matrix board for display of graphics and animation. The out-of-town scoreboard in left field displays current inning scores of games in progress from around the Major Leagues. Two, first-of-their-kind play-by-play boards along the first and third base lines display running summaries of plays to help fans follow the action. Four auxiliary boards display player at-bat information, pitch speed and type, and additional game-in-progress information.

MISCELLANEOUS

PLAYING FIELD

SAFECO Field's playing surface is a custom designed state-of-the-art field. It features a specially designed drainage system and a custom blend of four kinds of Kentucky bluegrass and two kinds of perennial ryegrass to provide the optimal playing surface for the athletes, the retractable roof, and the Northwest climate. The drainage system includes layers of drainage pipe, pea gravel, sand, and grass. A spider web of one-inch plastic hose can circulate hot water under the grass to bring it out of dormancy in time for Opening Day, and also compensate for shade and low levels of direct sunlight.

CONCESSIONS AND RESTAURANTS

SAFECO Field's concession and catering services are provided by Volume Services America, one of the nation's largest providers of food, catering, merchandise and facility management services for sports, convention and entertainment venues. A variety of fresh, high-quality foods from the Northwest and around the world are available to fans at concession stands and restaurants throughout the ballpark. Offerings include the Hit It Here Café, Bullpen Pub, and AVAYA Terrace Club & Elliott Hotel Diamond Club members-only lounges. In addition, Group Suites can accommodate groups of from 40 to 320 people, and feature in-door and out-door seating, and food and beverage catering.

SPECIAL FEATURES

The ballpark offers a number of exciting areas for fans. The Bullpen Market, located behind left field, features interactive games and activities for fans, as well as the Fan Walk personalized bricks, local food vendors, an open pit barbecue, and one of the best views of the game from behind the centerfield fence.

Lookout Landing, at the end of the left field line on the Upper Deck, provides incredible views both inside and outside the ballpark.

The Outside Corner Picnic Patio, directly above the Home Plate Gate entrance, is a gathering spot that provides fans with breathtaking views over Puget Sound, as well as tables and benches for picnic lunches.

Children's Hospital Playfield, located on the Main Concourse in center field, lets kids work off excess energy on fun, baseball-theme playground equipment. Outside the Playfield is the Wizard's of the Coast/Children's Hospital Wishing Well, where fans can donate coins to benefit Pacific Northwest patients and families.

The flagship Mariners Team Store is open year-round, seven days a week, offering the world's largest selection of Mariners apparel and merchandise for men, women, and children.

Works of art by 11 artists from the Northwest are integrated into the design of the ballpark and parking garage in an ambitious $1.3 million Public Art Program. The varied installations include a sculpture of 1,000 translucent bats suspended above the grand staircase at the Home Plate Gate and a huge bronze mitt outside the Left Field Gate.

Kingdome Farewell

Visitors ......1 hour 35 minutes prior to game

......2 hours 35 minutes prior to game

After 22-and-a-half years, the Seattle Mariners said farewell to the Kingdome on Sunday, June 27, 1999. A sold-out crowd of 56,530 fans watched the Mariners defeat the Texas Rangers 5-2. A post-game ceremony featured a ceremonial "final pitch" in the Kingdome, as Bob "Scrap Iron" Stinson caught a pitch tossed by Cory Segui, the grandson of Diego Segui. Segui and Stinson made up the starting battery of the Mariners inaugural game on April 6, 1977. Mariners Legends who participated in the post-game ceremony included Hall of Famer Gaylord Perry, Ruppert Jones, Alvin Davis, Julio Cruz and Harold Reynolds.

GROUND RULES

Photographer's Areas

The ball is "in play" if it hits any of the railings defining the photographer wells and bounces back onto the playing field. The vertical rails in the middle of the wells are considered in the wells and are out of play.

Ball Hitting Roof Trusses

A batted ball hitting a roof truss in fair territory shall be judged fair or foul in relation to where it lands or is touched by a fielder. If caught by a fielder, the batter is out and base runners advance at their own risk.

A batted ball hitting a roof truss in foul territory is a foul ball, regardless of where it lands or is touched by a fielder. If caught by a fielder, the batter is out and the base runners advance at their own risk.

Outfield Area

The hand-operated scoreboard in left field is part of the left field fence. A ball must clear the scoreboard (defined by yellow horizontal line) to be a home run. If a batted ball hits the cyclone fence under the scoreboard and above the padded wall, and the ball lodges behind the padded wall, it shall be ruled a ground-rule double whether it lodges behind the wall on the fly or on a bounce.

The ladder and the handle attached to and to the right of the scoreboard are beyond the padded wall. A fly ball striking either the ladder or handle shall be ruled a home run.

Dugouts

A ball must enter the dugout to be considered a dead ball.

Movement of Roof

If a game is started with the roof closed, it may be opened when, in the opinion of the home club, climactic conditions warrant such opening. However, roof may be opened only once during a game and shall commence only between innings after the umpire crew chief has been notified. Prior to opening of roof, the visiting club may challenge the opening if it feels a competitive imbalance will arise. The crew chief will make a final decision based on the merits of the challenge.

If a game is started with the roof open, it may be closed during the game. The decision to close the roof shall be made by the home club, and may be made solely for the comfort of its fans. Play will continue during roof closure if possible. However, the umpires have the right to stop play during this process if they determine it is necessary to do so.

These policies may be modified from time to time as more experience is gained with the roof and its impact on play

PEORIA SPORTS COMPLEX

The City of Peoria, the Seattle Mariners and the San Diego Padres proudly opened baseball's best spring training facility in 1994. Located 20 miles northwest of downtown Phoenix, the 145-acre Peoria Sports Complex provides separate practice facilities for the Padres and Mariners that include 6-1/2 practice fields, batting cages and a clubhouse.

Peoria Stadium, which was designed by HOK Sports Group of Kansas City, is the jewel of the $32-million complex and accommodates 10,000 fans (7,000 seats and 3,000 on lawn). Dimensions for the park are 340 ft. down each line, 385 ft. in the power alleys and 410 ft. to center.

Peoria is only the second spring training site in Mariners history, as the club trained in Tempe from 1977-92. Seattle played all road games in 1993, but used the Peoria facility for morning workouts as it was under construction.

DIRECTIONS: Take Bell Road exit off I-17 north; travel west to 83rd Avenue; travel south and enter facility at Stadium Way.

During his 24 seasons behind the microphone for the Mariners, he has missed only 58 games, including 21 in 1996 (17 due to medical reasons). Entering the 2001 season, he has witnessed 3,716 of the 3,774 games played by the Mariners. He is recognized as one of the best and most exciting broadcasters in the game. Niehaus threw out the Inagural First Pitch at SAFECO Field (July 15, 1999). He was named one of Seattle Times' Top 10 Most Influential People of the Century and named the Entertainer of the Century by a local radio station. In 1997, Niehaus was honored by the Washington State House of Representatives for his "contributions to the quality of life in the Pacific Northwest." He was elected Sportscaster of the Year for the state of Washington in 1995 and 1996 by his contemporaries in the National Sportscasters and Sportswriters Association. His expressions like "My Oh My" and "It will fly away" (for home runs) have become familiar throughout the Northwest. In addition, on May 7, 2000 Dave was inducted into the Mariners Hall of Fame. Niehaus joined Mariner first baseman Alvin Davis as the only two members in the club's Hall of Fame.

This past off-season Rick was named the Chicago-area sportscaster of the year by the Chicago Pitch and Hit Club. From 1992-94, he teamed with Bob Rathbun to call the action for the Tigers on WJR in Detroit. In 1993, he also worked with the legendary Ernie Harwell. Rick resides in Issaquah, WA.
